Dear GAB Families,

We have some big events upon us that you will want to note and participate in if available and appropriate. First, March is a month of celebrating the School Nutrition Program. March 8 we are going all out for Dig Into School Breakfast. Students will be encouraged to dress in clothes that compliment a construction theme – overalls, work hats, etc. State and National School Nutrition dignitaries will visit and tour on Monday, March 13, 2023. The Georgia Academy for the Blind is very pleased to be the chosen site!

Regional Braille Challenge is an outreach service of GAB, and we welcome to competition students from other Georgia districts. It is a wild and crazy day of brailling and waiting for the results – March 9.

Please join us for School Council at 1:00 p.m. by zoom or in person Friday, March 10, 2023, you will find out the latest on new windows and doors, school security and cottage renovations.

Autism specialist Dr. Haylie Miller will be with us Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, March 12, 13, and 14. Haylie is eager for families to each out to her as we provide wrap-around services for eligible students. Parent/guardians are always invited!

Administrators attended the GaDOE Instructional Leadership Conference held in Macon this week. Fabulous things are happening around the state that drive school improvement for Georgians! We are little, but we’re LOUD when we say we are PROUD to receive support and focus equivalent to other Georgia Public Schools to serve our low incidence population! We could not do what we do without federal funds in addition to state funds for GAB k-12 students.

Join us for the Cornhole Tournament THIS SATURDAY, March 4, 10:00 – 2:00.
You may be the grand winner and support senior events and myriad Expanded Core Curriculum activities at GAB!

As ever,

Cindy
March 6-10th Celebration

GAB has been selected by GaDOE and the USDA for a site visit on March 13th. This visit was originally planned for the celebration of National School Breakfast Week; however, GAB garnered the attention of USDA for a much bigger mission. We are very pleased and honored to have the opportunity to shine the light on our nutrition program.

From:
Dr. Cindy Gibson, School Level Superintendent

The Georgia Academy for the Blind welcomes state and national dignitaries to campus on Monday, March 13, 2023, to celebrate the National School Nutrition Program and its contribution to student health and safety. Among invited guests are Stacy Dean, Deputy Under Secretary USDA Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services; Richard Woods, Georgia School Superintendent; Dr. Kenney Moore, State Schools Director, Division of State Schools; and a host of Georgia Department of Education representatives. This is a wonderful opportunity for the GAB School Nutrition Program to shine under the direction of Andrea Johnson, Business Operations Manager School Nutrition Unit; Karla Stovall, Culinary Coordinator, School Nutrition Unit; and our very own GAB School Nutrition Manager Kristie Robinson and staff.

Georgia thrives as an agrarian state, and as such, the Farm to Table concept of purity and freshness is at the hub of all nutritional planning and implementation. At GAB one will see ‘round the clock teaching and learning with much focus on essential skills for optimum independence in daily living skills. Expanded Core Curriculum is embedded in mealtime where students enjoy a modern serving line and dining decor with braille accommodation for independent selection of serving items. The Occupational Therapist, Allison Hawkins takes mealtime to work individually with students on their OT/IEP goals. Also, teachers and paraprofessionals practice IEP skills including, feeding tasks, social tasks, and other self-care tasks, all based on dining and daily routine. The menu is a definite hit of the GAB morning news, and students may access the menu in braille or using screen readers. Communication and Accessibility are the keys to instruction and independence. The GAB Family welcomes you to our Family Gathering, where you will see firsthand the child who eats well, learns well, and the child who learns well seeks their highest potential.
